What is Title I?

Anne Street Elementary is identified as a Title I school under the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). Title I is designed to support State and local school reform efforts tied to the challenging State academic standards. The goal is to improve teaching and learning for students. Title I programs must be based on effective means of improving student achievement and include strategies to support family engagement. All Title I schools must jointly develop with parents and family members a written Parent and Family Engagement Policy.

Jointly-Developed School Policy for Shared Student Achievement

What is it?

This is a policy that describes how Anne Street will provide opportunities to improve family engagement to support student learning. Anne Street Elementary values the contributions and engagement of parents and family members. The purpose is to establish an equal partnership for the common goal of improving student achievement. Anne Street Elementary, in meaningful consultation with parents, jointly developed with and agreed upon, a written policy that will include relevant activities and actions that support effective parent and family engagement and strengthen student achievement. This plan describes the school's expectations for parent and family engagement, ways that Anne Street Elementary will implement and support specific family engagement activities and how parents can help plan and participate in activities and events to promote student learning at school and at home.

How is it revised?

The policy is revised annually each spring. Anne Street Elementary involved parents in an organized, ongoing and timely manner in the planning, review and improvement of programs under Title I, Part A. Programs included the School Parent and Family Engagement Policy, the School Improvement Plan, the School-Parent Compact, and the family engagement budget. Regular meetings were held for parents to formulate suggestions, to participate in decisions relating to the education of their child and for staff to respond to any suggestions as soon as practicably possible. Parents were involved in the development of the policy by providing input and feedback through multiple stakeholder meetings held in the spring of each year at varying dates/times, by providing online feedback on the school's website and through the newsletter, and notifying and inviting all stakeholders to review and revise the policy in multiple ways including: school system website, flyers, automated phone/email messaging system, social media, and newsletters.

Additionally, parent input and comments regarding this plan are welcome during the school year through an online form and at meetings. The plan is posted on the school website for parents to view and submit feedback throughout the year. All parent feedback received during the year will be used to revise the plan for the next school year. We also distribute an annual survey online and provide paper copies of the survey to ask parents for their suggestions on the plan and the use of funds for family engagement. Parents and family members can also give feedback during several parent meetings and activities. The School Parent and Family Engagement Policy is then updated and distributed to parents and the local community. If the school improvement plan is not satisfactory, Anne Street Elementary will submit any unsatisfactory parent comments on the plan upon submission to the district.

Who is it for?

All students participating in the Title I, Part A program, and their families are encouraged and invited to fully participate in the opportunities described in this plan. Anne Street Elementary will provide full opportunities and information, to the extent practicable in a language parents understand, for the participation of parents and family members with limited English proficiency, parents with disabilities, and parents of migratory children.

Where is it available?

At the beginning of the year, a copy of the plan is distributed to all parents at open house. It is also distributed to parents and the local community at parent engagement events. A copy of the plan is provided in the new student orientation packet, at parent workshops and in the front office. Additionally, the plan is posted on the school website and via social media. Parents can also retrieve a copy of the plan in the Parent Resource Center which is located at 802 Anne Street in the front lobby.

School-Parent Compact

As part of the jointly developed plan, Anne Street Elementary and our families will jointly develop a School-Parent Compact that outlines how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement. The compact will detail how a partnership will be built and developed to help children achieve the State's high standards. This was a collaborative effort achieved when the school:

- Jointly developed a School-Parent Compact with parents through multiple stakeholder meetings offered at two different times in which parents were able to give written and verbal feedback and suggestions, through online feedback forms on the website and in the school newsletter and notifying all parents of the invitation to participate and that the purpose of the meeting is to review and revise the School-Parent Compact through the school system website, flyers, automated phone/email messaging system, social media, and newsletters.
- Created a compact that outlined how parents, the entire school staff, and students will share the responsibility for improved student academic achievement by using input from teachers on suggested learning strategies, parents on the type of support they need, and students on what would help them learn. Parents are encouraged to attend annual revision meetings held in the spring each year to review the compact and make suggestions based on student needs and school improvement goals. Parents are also encouraged to participate in the annual Title I parent survey that is also used as a tool to collect parent feedback regarding the current Title I programs and the compact.
- Described how they will build and develop a partnership to help children achieve the challenging State academic standards by the school providing specific activities/strategies to families for at home learning, and to promote student growth on identified school/grade level academic achievement goals. The family will utilize strategies provided by the school to support student learning. Teachers and families will partner to set reasonable expectations for student academic growth. The students will share responsibility for their learning targets which were jointly established with their teachers and families.

Annual Title I Meeting

We encourage and invite all parents to an evening of information and learning about our Title I program. The meeting will cover our school's Parent and Family Engagement Policy, the School Improvement Plan, the School-Parent Compact, and parents' requirements. Meeting information will be posted in the school newsletter, on the school website, via social media and through ParentLink. This annual meeting will be held at a convenient time in August 2018 and will also be available to view online on the school website.

Communications

Anne Street Elementary will promote and support parents and family members as an important foundation of the school in order to strengthen the school and reach achievement goals. The school will take the following measures to provide parents of participating children information and supports by:

- Providing timely information about Title I programs by advertising through various methods such as Facebook, flyers, and ParentLink calls, by hosting the Annual Title I meeting, and sharing the Title I Information Sheet in the student's agenda, at curriculum night, at workshops, and in the parent resource center.
- Offering a flexible number of meetings in the morning, afternoon or evening by using data from the fall and spring parent surveys.
- Offering meetings in flexible formats by providing resources in person, online and offering meetings at community establishments.
- Providing transportation to prevent barriers to parent and family engagement by inviting parents to RSVP to request transportation to the school or other location to attend school parent engagement events.
- Providing child care to prevent barriers to parent and family engagement by inviting parents to RSVP to request arrangements for childcare while they attend parent engagement events. Anne Street Elementary will also set aside funds to pay for childcare while parents attend important meetings and workshops.
- Addressing opportunities for regular meetings if requested and responding to parent requests for Title I programs/meetings within 2 school days.
- Providing information related to the school and parent programs in an understandable and uniform format, including alternative formats upon request and in a language parents can understand, by providing a Spanish statement on documents directing parents who to contact if translation is needed, making translators available upon request and by using parent-friendly language void of acronyms and educational lingo. Translated documents will be available in the front office and on the school's website.
- Responding to parent requests for Title I services within 2 school days through a phone call, email, note or in-person contact to ensure parents are equipped with every tool needed to help their child succeed academically.
- Distributing the Parent and Family Engagement Policy to parents, family members and the community at open house, in the new student orientation packet, on the school website, via social media, in the front office, at parent workshops and in the school Parent Resource Center.

Reservation of Funds

School districts that receive more than $500,000 in Title I funds are required to reserve 1% of funds for parent and family engagement activities. Anne Street Elementary will take the following actions to engage parents in decisions about how Title I, Part A funds are spent by:

- Sharing the budget for parent and family engagement activities and programs with parents by requesting input through fall and spring surveys and feedback forms at workshops, stakeholder meetings, in the newsletter and on the school website to determine how Title I funds should be spent.
- Involving parents in input opportunities for how the funds are used by discussing them at workshops, notifying all stakeholders of the multiple meetings at varying dates/times to provide input on the 1 percent reservation of parent engagement funds and through multiple feedback forms on the website, in surveys and at meetings.

Coordination of Services

Anne Street Elementary will coordinate and integrate parent and family engagement programs and activities with other Federal, State, and local programs. The school will also conduct other activities that encourage and support parents in more fully participating in the education of their children by the school:

- Coordinating and integrating parent and family engagement programs, activities, and strategies with programs such as Pre-K, Special Education, English to Speakers of Other Languages (ESOL), or college and career resources to host informational sessions and events to provide resources for parents.
- Translating important parent correspondence into a language that a significant percent of the students and families speak. Documents which are not translated will contain a statement for identified languages indicating who to contact for translation assistance.
- Coordinating with other organizations, businesses, and community partners to provide additional supports and literacy resources to families.
- Making resources available through a parent resource center that contains materials for parents to utilize and check out including brochures and other resources on ways to help students at home with reading, writing and math. Many materials will be available in identified languages.

Building Capacity of School Staff

Anne Street Elementary will provide training to educate teachers, specialized instructional support personnel, principals and other school leaders, and other staff, with the assistance of parents, in the:

- Value and utility of contributions of parents.
- How to reach out to, communicate with and work with parents as equal partners.
- Implementing and coordinating parent programs.
- Building ties between home and school.

The school will train staff by:

- Providing in-person trainings at grade level/faculty meetings.
- Providing online avenues to build staff capacity.
- Emailing staff information to build parent capacity with reflection questions/input.
- Sharing information using parent-friendly language.

Anne Street Elementary will provide reasonable support for parent and family engagement activities as parents may request by:

- Providing materials to help with homework, or by providing assistance with interpreting their child's academic data through monthly newsletters that feature tips, games, web resources, and other activities, focusing on the identified school goals.
- Providing information through open house, curriculum night, the Title I meeting, workshops, the new student orientation packet, stakeholder meetings, a parent resource center, at parent-teacher conferences, combined events with another program and community events.
- The school will use a variety of methods to support families including online videos, online feedback opportunities, transportation, child care and translation/interpretation services.
- Hosting a back to school night, parent-teacher conferences, and parent and family nights throughout the year.

Anne Street Elementary will ensure parents are knowledgeable about their child's academic standards and how to help them develop academically.

Building Capacity for Family Engagement

Anne Street Elementary will provide the following activities that have been chosen, in meaningful consultation with our parents, to be undertaken to build parents' capacity for engagement in the school to support their children's academic achievement:

- Engaging parents in the development of training for teachers, principals, and other educators to improve the effectiveness of that training by offering classes such as literacy training for understanding, the use of technology for parents to gain knowledge and skills, asking parents for feedback on topics for staff training through surveys and workshops and using a parent co-presenter at the training.
- Providing necessary literacy training for parents after the district has exhausted all other reasonable available sources of funding of such training by hosting a literacy night several times throughout the year, sharing newsletter tips and providing parent resources.
- Paying reasonable and necessary expenses for activities, including transportation and child care costs, to enable parents to participate in school-related meetings and trainings by using school resources for transportation and/or child care based on parent request.
- Training parents to enhance the engagement of other parents by encouraging parents to attend meetings, sharing information learned with parents in the community, and designing a role for co-presenters to speak at parent engagement events.
- Maximizing parent and family engagement and parent participation by arranging school meetings at a variety of times and providing online options by hosting workshops/events on different days and different times as well as sending home information about the parent meetings in a timely manner, recording workshops or a video summary of the workshop with contact information and posting it on the school website and/or social media, by providing events in the community and sending information via email to parents who request information from the workshop if they are not able to attend.
- Adopting and implementing model approaches to improving parent and family engagement by creating a school wide event highlighting and displaying student work and progress in relation to academic standards and providing online opportunities for families to be engaged.
- Encouraging parent participation on the districtwide parent advisory council to provide advice on all matters related to parental involvement in Title I, Part A programs by providing opportunities for parents to collaborate with staff in the decision making process and reaching out to and submitting a list of engaged parents to participate on the District Parent Advisory Council (DPAC).
- Developing appropriate roles for community-based organizations and businesses, including faith-based organizations in engagement activities by collaborating with community members to connect students, families, and staff to expand learning opportunities, community services, and civic participation to support parent meetings/events.

Parent and Family Engagement

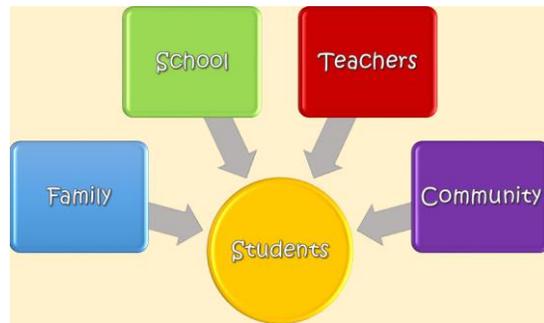

To Anne Street Elementary parent and family engagement means the participation of parents in regular, two-way, and meaningful communication involving student academic learning and other school activities, including ensuring that:

- Parents play an integral role in assisting their child's learning
- Parents are encouraged to be actively involved in their child's education at school
- Parents are full partners in their child's education and are included, as appropriate, in decision-making and on advisory committees to assist in the education of their child

Building Capacity of Parents

Anne Street Elementary is committed to building parents' capacity for strong parent and family engagement to ensure effective engagement of parents and to support a partnership among the school and the community to improve student academic achievement. The school will:

- Provide materials and training to help parents work with their children to improve their child's achievement, such as literacy training and using technology (including education about the harms of copyright piracy), as appropriate, to foster parent and family engagement by providing parents with resources online, at parent-teacher conferences, resources in packets from the parent engagement coordinator, resources at workshops, and through parent resource center materials.
- Provide assistance to parents in understanding topics such as:
 - Description and explanation of the curriculum in use at the school by providing syllabi, curriculum night, open house, PTO meetings, parent-teacher conferences and during various parent workshops throughout the school year.
 - Challenging State academic standards and achievement levels of standards by providing resources at workshops, curriculum night, at parent-teacher conferences and tips and helpful websites in the monthly newsletter.
 - State and local academic assessments including alternate assessments and a description and explanation of the assessments used to measure student progress by providing resources at curriculum night, at parent-teacher conferences, workshops, and the monthly school newsletter.
 - Requirements of Title I, Part A by offering the Annual Title I meeting and providing the Title I Information Sheet in each child's agenda.
 - How to monitor their child's progress through the use of the Infinite Campus Portal, at parent-teacher conferences, at workshops, sending home progress reports and report cards, offering curriculum night and providing online resources.
 - How to work with educators to improve the achievement of their child by offering parent-teacher conferences throughout the school year and by parent request, contacting the parents regularly and offering parent workshops.
 - Strategies parents can use to support their child's academic progress by providing parent workshops about various academic tips and strategies, offering a monthly school newsletter for strategies and tips, and providing resources in the parent resource center and information online at the school's website, YouTube channel, or Facebook page.
 - Partnering with teachers to support their child's academic achievement by providing materials and resources to help parents work with their child to improve their child's achievement through regularly communicating, sharing Infinite Campus resources, and offering parent-teacher meetings and parent workshops.
- Provide parents individual student academic assessment results and interpretation of those results by hosting workshops and online resources about the Georgia Milestones Assessment.
